Presidentially Speaking !!

Happy 4th of July to all of you. I am not crazy about fireworks, but I do hope that this holiday represents a celebration for the Center on this day and the coming year. Last year was somewhat of a bust for many of us, but I believe things are looking up. Our membership is growing and so are our volunteers. Financially we are in good shape. I believe that we are starting to have more groups to participate in card games and such. Just remember if you are a die-hard game player you need find out if your group are of the same mind set. With so much of the world at odds with each other we need to remember there are those who want to be accepted for just where they are at in life. Please make sure they feel at ease. Our elections are in process as I write this. It will be interesting to see how cohesive things will be. I personally plan to give your next President all the support that I can. I have flown by the seat of my pants the last three years and I am glad to relinquish the job. You will soon know who your next officers and directors will be. It is time to pass responsibilities, decisions and hopefully fun to new people.

I want to give a shout out to our guys for all the work they have put in picking up donations and deliveries. It is amazing to see how they execute these jobs. Heavy is really an understatement. The Center is saying goodbye to our Alice Wells. She has been a member and volunteer for the Center for many years. She has served in many capacities. The most important thing I can say is she has been and always will be a kind, and joyful presence in the Center. We will never let go of all our memories of her. Alice is moving to California to live with her children. I hope they are on their toes because they will need it to keep up with her. I am going to miss my President's Letter every month. You have been kept informed of my Luna dog. She has now mastered the leash. The only thing she does not like are fire plugs. I am not sure what she thinks they are. She also is a more than happy passenger in the car. I am go ing to get her a seat of her own. We decided to take her for a first and long journey to Redmond, Oregon. On the way we stopped at Marion Forks Restaurant for some coffee and a potty break. No such luck, it was closed. Luna and I had to find some bushes. I dropped the jeans not knowing I also dropped a $100.00 out of my pocket. We stopped in Redmond for burgers, this is where I found out my funds were gone. When we started the car to leave, we had a dead battery. A kind savior jumped our battery. We went to purchase another one and I waited with Luna so we could keep the car running. I got out to move to the drivers' seat and realized I had locked myself out, and left Luna in a running car. This was bad enough but there was a rainstorm with hail and bolts of thunder. Another kind savior came along and managed to get the car open. As we headed home I had scathingly brilliant idea. We stopped at Marion Forks again, Luna and I found the exact spot as before. Yippie Doodle Doo there was my $100.00. Very wet, but still there. This was quite a trip for Missie Luna's first expedition. Thank you all for allowing me to share my letters with you. See You When I See You!

After SSS was closed for two weeks at the end of April, we were all thrilled to return to our normal schedules in May. We enjoy visiting with our friends and finding out what they have been doing and what their plans are for the summer.

One of our newer crafters is Claudia. When she retired from her job in Portland, she moved here to be close to her son and family, which includes two young grandsons.

She mentioned that every summer she attends Needlework Camp at Rockaway Beach. Everyone wanted to know about it. Most of us have been to church camp and camping trips. Some have attended Quilt Camps, but no one had been to Needlework Camp. Claudia has attended for about 25 years. It meets at the end of September from Friday thru Sunday and/or Sunday thru Wednesday. Claudia discovered that the shorter session isn't long enough to accomplish much, so she attends both.

Everyone brings their own project: cross stitch, knitting, crocheting, quilting, etc. Occasionally, someone will bring a project for the whole group to do.

Claudia learned about this camp through her church. About 90 years ago, Dr. Magruder donated some land to the church and it has become Camp Magruder. It is used by churches, horse clubs, outdoor clubs, special needs organizations, etc. For more information: www.campmagruder.org

It is the typical camp with housing, meeting places, dining hall and access to many activities.

This year's Needlework Camp is from September 23-28. You can stay for the whole time or divide it up. If you'd like more information, come to our Crafter's Group on Mondays from noon to 2:00 and ask Claudia.

If there is a holiday on Monday, we meet the next Wednesday from noon to 2:00

Garden News !

Our garden Meetings are scheduled for the third Tuesday; from now on until end of the year. We will have speakers, if available. We meet at noon, bring your lunch, or get the free one before you enter the center, warm it up, then join us in the large gathering room, where tables/chairs are all set up. We'll have garden themed movies on dvd, plus garden magazines if folks have some to bring and share.

Volunteers Needed !!

If you have read our past newsletters, you know that our Center is run by volunteers. As with any organization, volunteers come and go but are the heart blood of our operations. So, we are in need of a volunteers to fill a very important jobs. If you are interested in volunteering please contact the center front desk at 503-588-0748

Included with the ballot will be brief bios (not exceeding 100 word each) submitted by each candidate in order for constituents to know something about who will be representing them and, for your voting convenience, a stamped return envelope. If you have not received your ballot by July 18th, please contact the Business office at 503-588-0748. The Nominating Committee and present members of the Board would like to thank you, the membership, for participating in this important aspect of supporting our Center and to thank the candidates who willingly stepped up to run for office during this transitional year as we re-open after the long Covid-driven hiatus.

The More Games the More Fun

The Center has recently heard from several people interested in finding fellow members who would like to start canasta, mahjong and Mexican Train groups. In each instance instruction will be available so don't let that deter you and beginners will always be welcome. For those interested in canasta or mahjong text or call Sandy at 971-209-0303 for additional information.

And If Mexican Train's your game, or you'd like it to be, text or call Kate at 503-320-0486.

In all instances, names of interested parties will be noted, dates that will work for the group identified and once settled on, will then will be worked into the Center calendar.

For many on us it's been far too long since we've gotten together with friends to enjoy a game of some sort and likely more important, to visit and enjoy each other's company. Many groups are now meeting regularly so don't forget to check the sign-up sheets on the bulletin board in the hallway for contact information and/or to sign up. Activities are also listed in the monthly newsletter.

NOTICE !! YOGA Classes Cancelled!
